AXIS Store Reporter

AXIS Store Reporter Subscription 2019 (article no. 01704-001) is a subscription service which is valid until December 31st, 2019. It will be replaced on November 1st, 2019 by AXIS Store Reporter Subscription 2020 (article no. 01998-001). During November and December 2019, both licenses will be valid. Please note that the renewal will not occur automatically. It is necessary to contact your distributor and purchase the applicable number of channel licenses you would like to renew for another year.

AXIS Store Reporter is a web-based service that gathers statistics from all applications in AXIS Store Optimization Suite and AXIS Loss Prevention Suite.

Using one interface, you get insights into your store's performance with statistics and graphical representations from different locations and camera units. The data is gathered at fixed intervals. AXIS Store Reporter includes the AXIS Store Data Manager application which, among other things, can notify you if there are problems retrieving data.
